This month WE LOVE...

...retro prints. Pink Lining was one of the first companies to make change bags both practical and pretty – in fact, its Yummy Mummy cupcake bag inspired a generation of gorgeous change bags. The new collection features fun printed items like this Car Seat Tidy, £25. It fixes to the headrest and comes with pockets for all those bits and bobs needed on car journeys. OUT IN FRONT!

Mums love a good bargain when they're shopping for baby essentials. So it came as no surprise to Clippasafe that their new carrier was a best seller at the Earls Court Baby Show last October.

The Carramio Baby Carrier proved popular with parents thanks to its excellent value – just £24.99 – and lightweight design. The two-way baby carrier, which is suitable for babies weighing 7lb 11oz to 19lb 13oz, features a lightweight fabric lining to help keep your baby cool, wide padded straps and lumbar support to spread the baby's weight evenly and protect your back. Plus it has a machine-washable, detachable dribble-bib. For more info, visit www.clippasafe.co.uk.

CONSUMER ED'S CHOICE

If bunnies and teddy bear prints aren't your idea of stylish toddler wear, take a look at the Ziggy Smalls website. This high-fashion, high-quality range includes this limited-edition hand-printed hoodie, exclusively designed by artist Marion Rhoades. It comes in a pink robot print for girls (right) or a navy space design for boys, and costs £25. Visit www.ziggiesmalls.com.
